ASIAN ENERGY FINANCIAL AND INVESTMENT CONFERENCE

27-28 October 2015 • Marina Bay Sands Convention Center • Singapore International Energy Week

Over $15 trillion is projected to be invested in the Asian energy sector by 2035, according to the International Energy Agency. Financing these investments is critical to ongoing economic development and political stability.

EEI's Asian Energy Financial and Investment Conference will bring together Asia's energy leaders and financial decision-makers, including Mr. Wang Min, Executive Vice President of State Grid Corporation of China, and Devarshi Das, Co-Chief Executive Officer at CapAsia, to discuss the challenges and opportunities of financing Asia's energy future.

Conference attendees will gain an edge in the emerging Asian energy market through two components:

Investor Relations: Investors, analysts, bankers and rating agencies meet formally and informally with senior executives and heads of IR from the energy industry. Formal company presentations to investors and analysts will be scheduled and companies will host private meetings with current and potential investors.

Critical Issue Panels: Over 40 industry experts will present their perspectives on a wide range of critical industry issues.
